I am the founder of Team4Ukraine, Czechia, member of the Maidan Monitoring Information Center, Kharkiv, member of the St. Petersburg Center for Deviantology, founding member of The Czech Society of Criminology (CSC) responsible for CSC's relationship with Ukraine (as of 2022). Since 2014, I have been working in Ukraine regularly. I have recent experience with war crime monitoring for law enforcement agencies. With the OSCE Special Monitoring Mission to Ukraine I have long experience in the human dimension and ceasefire violations monitoring in the Donetsk oblast in non-government-controlled areas. I have long-term experience with independent criminological, security, and political research and election observation. I also have experience with special equipment such as weapons, monoculars, cameras, radios and cyber security and IT, including web editing, on-line maps, field apps for data collection.

Professional experience

Adviser, Criminologist, Political analyst, 01/12/2010 – NOW

Description of tasks and responsibilities Since 2010, I have been working as an independent consultant to the private and public sector. In 2012, I conducted research on Russian-speaking organized crime for The Institute of Criminology and Social Prevention (Ministry of Justice, CR): <https://www.petrpojman.com/publikace/>. Between 2014 and 2021, along with Prague Security Studies Institute and Team4Ukraine we implemented a number of research and security projects funded by the Czech MFA, Ministry of the Interior, and Visegrad Fund. My main responsibility was the identification of key challenges in the security sector reform and project implementation in Ukrainian regions. The topics covered by the projects included: cyber security, community policing, integrity tests and anti-corruption measures in security forces, and combating and preventing human trafficking, and child abuse.
